PROMPT ACTION IF HARDING WINS

Extra Session of Congress Probable to Act on Peace Treaty and End League of Nations Muddle.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Marion, O., July 24.—The statement that he would approve a declaration of peace with Germany as soon as it could be presented to him by congress, made by Senator Warren G. Harding in his speech accepting the republican nomination for the presidency indicates in the judgment of Republicans here, an extra session of congress after March 4, next, if Senator Harding and a Republican congress are elected.

The position taken by the Republican party on the league of nations covenant and approved by Senator Harding, leaves no doubt, it is believed, of the Republican purpose to end finally the Wilson league. An effort will be made first to declare peace and repeal war laws, but friends of Senator Harding do not think he would call congress in extra session unless there was a Republican majority in both houses and senate.

That an extra session is contemplated by Republicans generally, is evidenced by a telegram received by the senator from Congressman Bascom Simpson, of Virginia, congratulating Senator Harding on his speech of acceptance. Simpson wired:

"All eastern newspapers interpret your speech as calling for an extra session. This will undoubtedly be approved."

Senator Harding called attention, also in his speech to an unexpected demand for a revision of the tariff to meet the Republican doctrine of protection for American industries.

Besides the declaration of peace and the repeal of laws, the extra session would take up the question of demolishing the Underwood tariff and the framing and enactment of a Republican tariff law in its stead.

RUSSO-POLISH ARMISTICE

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, July 24.—An armistice agreement has been reached between the two commanders of the Russian and Polish armies in the field and it is understood that fighting in the Russo-Polish theater of war ceases immediately, according to official telegrams received here today.

It was stated, however, that the full terms of the armistice may not be reached by Moscow and Warsaw for several days.

The allies will not be represented in any way in the armistice negotiations, it was stated in official circles. British officials said that the final and complete terms may not be received here until an agreement is reached and signed by the Polish and Russian government representatives.

A dispatch received by the Central News earlier in the day said that the Poles were shortening their battle line for the better defense of Warsaw.

POLISH QUESTION CAUSES WORRY

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, July 24.—"Extremely serious" is the view Washington took today of the European situation, particularly concerning the invasion of Poland by the Russian "reds" and what might come out of it.

At the state department no one in authority cared to make any official statement on the subject, but no doubt was left in the minds of those making inquiries that the American government is watching events closely and with some anxiety though, it was admitted the almost hour-to-hour change in the situation made it difficult to know at any stated time just what is happening in central Europe.

It is known that while France and England are discussing sending troops to the aid of Poland no suggestion of any kind has yet been advanced that the United States should join such an expedition should one be sent against the Russians.

Meanwhile, the Polish minister here is very active. He has had a number of conferences with state department officials, though what transpired at these conferences was not made public. It was understood, however, he wished to know just how far in the way of rendering material assistance to Poland the United States government would go.

The impression exists in governmental circles that no definite promises were made by the minister, unless the suggestion that Poland might possibly obtain the continuation of credits, enabling her to purchase certain much needed supplies and war material.

There remains $25,000,000 of war credits, authorized by congress, but according to officials of the treasury department, it is doubtful whether this could be legally extended to Poland, inasmuch as it is provided that it be loaned to aid nations engaged in war with "enemies of the United States."

President Wilson feels deeply the present situation, it is learned, and fears that the treaty of Versailles is impaired, and it is felt he will make an official declaration of sympathy for Poland.

BUFFALO MAN HAS MURDER THEORY

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Buffalo, N. Y., July 24.—James Doyle, N. 165 South Division street, this city, has furnished the police with information which may result in the solution of New York's "trunk murder."

Doyle told acting Captain of Detectives Newton that he felt sure, after reading all the published descriptions of the young woman whose body was found in a trunk in New York yesterday after it had traveled by express from Detroit, that the murdered woman was Mary Abrams, who resided at No. 135 Church street in Detroit last year and who worked at the Lloyd George Cafe in that city during last December.

Doyle said that the description published in yesterday's papers tallied with that of Mrs. Abrams. He said that two of her teeth like the murdered woman's, protruded in a noticeable manner. He said that Mrs. Abrams and her husband, Roy Abrams, moved to Detroit, Michigan last year. The information was furnished to the Detroit police.

WILLETT PAVING AGAIN UNDER WAY

The brick pavement on one side of Broadway has been turned as far as Albany avenue and is now ready for the laying of Willett along the entire half of Broadway. Work has been started on turning the brick on the other half of Broadway, and within a few days the entire job will be completed. A carload of asphalt has been received and the work of laying Willett was resumed today after the delay caused by the non-arrival of material.

Justice Indignified.
City Judge Scherick was unable to attend court this morning being ill. The deputy judge was not called there being no cases.

HOLD REPUBLICAN CAUCUSES TONIGHT

Republican unofficial primaries will be held in each election district throughout Ulster county this evening at eight o'clock, New York state time.

Each of the eighty-eight districts will elect three delegates to attend the unofficial county convention which will be held at the Kingston opera house on Monday, August 2.

The unofficial county convention will designate for nomination at the primaries candidates for surrogate, sheriff, assemblyman, coroner and superintendent of the poor, and recommend Ulster county's choice for the nomination for congressman and senator.

Candidates for the nomination for surrogate are Surrogate, Walter N. Gill, Arthur C. Connolly and Daniel B. Deyo of this city, and George F. Kaufman of Saugerties.

Candidates for the nomination for sheriff are William H. Kolts and ex-sheriff Henry J. Hoffman of Kingston, Herman S. Wells of Ellenville and George E. Carrington of Saugerties.

REFINERS PLAN TO RATION "GAS"

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, July 24.—A gasoline rationing system to be applied throughout the entire United States is being conducted by big refiners.

The system is designed as a last resort to curtail consumption and to keep the price from being forced to more than 40 cents a gallon. Refiners say curtailing consumption is the only way to keep down prices. Before adopting the rationing system they plan to issue a nationwide appeal to cut down job riding.

The rationing plan would be a voluntary one by dealers in which the government would have no hand. It would mean that gasoline would be doled out to dealers under a fixed quota for each state or locality. California now is on gasoline rationing.

Gas is selling from 31 to 39 cents a gallon. It is highest in New Mexico and northern New York.

Consumption is reported at 13,000,000 gallons a day. Production is 2,000,000 less. Reserve stocks are being drawn on at the rate of about $6,000,000 gallons a month. On May 1st the reserve totaled 577,000,000 gallons. The reserve was built up during the winter. Refiners say it is impossible to increase production. In June 11,087 oil wells were being drilled.

MAYOR CANFIELD TO HEAD K. OF P.

The Grand Lodge of the Knights of Pythias will hold its annual convention at Saratoga next week. Mayor Canfield is now Grand Vice-Chancellor and will probably be elected Grand Chancellor. The Pythian Sisters will hold their Grand Temple at the same time and place. It is expected that there will be at least one thousand in attendance at both conventions. An effort will be made to have Kingston selected as the meeting place for 1921.

The order has made a phenomenal growth in this and other states during the past year. In fact, the increased membership is greater than any other year since the order was organized. The next gala will reach about fifty thousand. At the present time, the total membership is nearly 800,000 in the United States.

There is a uniform rank in connection with the order. Much activity has been displayed in this branch of the order during the past year. Over 20,000 men in uniform attended the National Encampment held in Cleveland last month.

The insurance department report shows an increase of protection amounting to a gain of over $5,000,000 last year, making a total of over $103,000,000 of protection provided by this branch of the Order.

The Knights of Khorosma, known as the "Play Ground of Pythians," has a new branch in this city. The new branch has been organized in this city in the past two years.

The Pythian Sisters have developed a greater activity during the past year than ever before. Membership in this order is restricted to the immediate female relatives of the Knights and also the Knights.

The Grand Lodge will open Monday evening with a public meeting in the large hall room of the Grand Union Hotel. The arrangements for this meeting have been made by Mayor Canfield and James E. Canfield, secretary of the Saratoga Chamber of Commerce and formerly of this city. Addresses will be made by United States Senator James W. Wadsworth, Ex-Senator Edgar V. Brockhoff, Judge George Adair, Edward H. Adams, president of the Saratoga Chamber of Commerce, and others.

Among those who will be in attendance at the convention from this city are Mayor and Mrs. Canfield and two children, Bernard and Helen, Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor and son, Mr. and Mrs. Guy C. Crosby and son, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Kibben, Jay W. Kibben, Mr. and Mrs. William Kibben, Walter Kibben and Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Ashley, Mrs. John D. Tatham, Post-Grand Chief and Mrs. Lavinia Nichols, Deputy Grand Chief, will attend the Pythian Sisters Grand Temple.

REPUBLICANS AT SARATOGA

Delegates to State Convention Begin to Arrive—Speculation as to Head of Ticket Narrows Probabilities to Four Men.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Saratoga Springs, N. Y., July 24.—Republicans, big and small in party councils, began pouring in here today for the state convention next week, and with their coming loosened a score of "tips" on the probable state ticket make-up.

Boiled down, the political gossip of the leaders and near leaders already here, calls for the elimination of most of the dozen or more aspirants for the governorship. It leaves possible choice with four men—ex-Judge Nathan L. Miller, Speaker Thaddeus Sweet, Senator Henry Sage and Secretary of State Francis M. Hugo.

And those who have for some time half-heartedly whispered that it will be a "dark horse" whose number the convention will post as winner, are now boldly and openly making this declaration with the alternative suggestion that the convention may refuse to recommend a ticket. This last, they claim, is not altogether beyond the realm of possibility. It is pointed out, with the convention but a day or two away, a deadlock on candidates seems inevitable.

Lieutenants of the Miller backers maintain that their boom is no fledgling and that the convention will have to name the Syracusan.

There is no secret of the fact that the leaders do not want to name Hugo, and Hugo followers plan to try to stampede the convention for him. If political dopests have it right, other contenders for the honor of heading the Republican ticket are eliminated from the ranks, much after this fashion:

Joseph S. Phillips, regarded as a strong "dark horse," is out of it because of geographical location. Senator Wadsworth, Attorney General Newton and Mr. Phillips reside within a radius of 42 miles of each other and Wadsworth and Newton are seeking re-election.

John Lord O'Brien, of Erie, Elton H. Hooker of Rochester and New York, Judge Wesley O. Howard of Rensselaer, Representative Bertrand H. Shell and Senator George F. Thompson, they claim, are eliminated principally because they do not command sufficient strength for designation.

The field is further narrowed down by political gossip in some channels which throws out Speaker Sweet and Senator Sage—Sweet because of his connection with the Socialist outer leaders by the last legislative session, which some might bring unfavorable reaction, and Sage because of his connection with William Barnes, whom some of the leaders suspect of having state leadership ambitions.

Former Governor Whitman is being mentioned, while Court of Appeals Judge Gathert W. Pound of Lockport was asked by George Glynn, chairman of the Republican state committee, if he would entertain the nomination. They are both possibilities with the unmentioned "dark horse" and the probability of the convention refusing to recommend a state.

STORM DAMAGE IN BUFFALO

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Buffalo, N. Y., July 24.—Lashed by the most violent mid-summer electrical storm in the city's history, Buffalo is flood bound in some sections, the property damage runs into many thousands of dollars and an untold number of persons had narrow escapes from injury and possible death.

Over at Saint Catharines, Ontario, Edward Canavan, a mill worker, walked out of the Killeith Power Mill after the storm, came in contact with a live wire and was instantly killed.

The wrath of the storm was felt the heaviest outside the city. The little village of Cheever, just beyond the Seneca street city line, suffered an experience it will never forget. Six homes there were completely demolished. The dwellings of two other families were badly damaged. The roof of a garage was lifted off and carried away in the storm's fury. Barns were shattered and windows smashed.

Driving on Waring road, Policeman Frank Falam who is making his first arrest Friday afternoon when he caught Samuel Lipman of 86 Haven avenue, New York city, driving on the wrong side of the street on Broadway. Lipman's car was put over to Monday. The increased traffic through the city has made it necessary to put on another motorcycle policeman.

They Made a Lantern.
Hesperus used a lantern in his search for an honest man, but it was not on honest man that "trip" of the lantern on the iron cap that struck the traffic at the corner of Broadway and Railroad avenue. Part of an automobile took the "trip" of a lantern this morning at 1:30 o'clock. The number on their license plate was secured.

Paroled Near a Highway.
Joseph Barman was arrested this morning by Officer Camp for parking an automobile in front of a drug store on the Strand. He gave bond for his appearance in court Monday morning.

TO OFFER IRELAND SANE HOME RULE

South to Have Dominion Rule. Similar to That of Canada. Britain Retaining Charge of Defense—Orangeism Object.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, July 24.—Proposals are before the British government which are tantamount to granting dominion rule to south Ireland if the central and southern provinces remain part of the British empire and defence against external aggression is left in the hands of the British government. The Times stated today.

By dominion government is meant home rule such as Canada enjoys.

South Ireland would be unrestricted as to customs, excise and finance. The six counties of Ulster province would remain as they are at present or would be allowed their own dominion government separately from the south.

All the evening newspapers gave conspicuous display to the new Irish policy negotiations which are now being carried on with the Sinn Fein.

After a brief spell of quiet renewed rioting was reported from Belfast during the night and the war office is sending more troops into Ulster province.

The British military commander in Ireland will be given wider powers to deal with criminal offenses but denial is made of reports that civil trials are to be eliminated.

The Ulster Volunteers (an anti-home rule military organization in Ulster province) are being summoned to arms.

According to information from Dublin, Sir Edward Carson was responsible for the call to arms on the part of the Ulster Volunteers. The call was described as part of Sir Edward Carson's protest against the possibility of the British cabinet granting dominion rule to Ireland.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity.

Charles H. Thorne died on Friday night at his residence on Ellipse avenue, New Paltz. He was seventy-eight years of age but was so active that he seemed considerably younger. Mr. Thorne leaves a widow and two children, Fred, who is teaching at Flushing, L. I., and Josephine, who is teaching on Staten Island. The funeral was held on Monday afternoon and the interment was at the old home of the family at Stamfordville, Dutchess county. The funeral services at the late residence were conducted by Rev. Dr. Clapp and Rev. Mr. Lynn of Staten Island. The Thornes have been residents of New Paltz over twenty years, coming here that their children might be educated at the Normal School. No family has been more esteemed in the village.

The funeral of Harry F. Plunkett, who died Thursday will be held from the residence, 212 Ten Broeck avenue, Monday morning at 10 o'clock and at St. Joseph's Church at 10:30. Interment will be in the family plot at Binghamton on Tuesday. Mr. Plunkett was a traveling salesman for the John C. Heiber and Company of Utica, his territory being the six counties of Ulster, Greene, Delaware, Orange, Dutchess and Columbia, and in his line of work became very well known and highly respected over a wide stretch of country.

Mr. Plunkett married Miss Margaret Shaughnessy of Binghamton, who survives him, together with his mother, Mrs. M. C. Plunkett, two sisters, Anna and Arnes and two brothers, Thomas of Washington, and Walter of New York city. He was taken ill in January and rallied somewhat for a time but did not fully recover. He was a man of fine personality, jovial disposition and he will be mourned by many friends. He was a member of the Traveler's Club of Utica, and Kingston Council No. 275, Knights of Columbus.

Miss Rowena Ver Nooy, daughter of Melford Ver Nooy, who will be remembered as a well known jurist of this city, and Ulster county, and Martha Decker Ver Nooy, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. John Brodhead, 184 First street, July 24, of angina pectoris. Miss Ver Nooy commenced her life work in the public schools of Greater New York, she was valued for her thoroughness in discipline, her efficiency in departmental work and her high moral standard of living. Of French Huguenot blood descent her love for country was paramount and her aim was ever to instill in the minds of the foremen both element of which the schools are so greatly composed, to love the country of their adoption.

Nine years ago on account of ill health she was obliged to retire from active work. Her winters until the last two years were spent in the south. On the teaching force of Greater New York she leaves a host of friends whose loving expressions of sympathy all during her long illness were more than appreciated by her as were also the many, many kindhearted shows her by her Kingston friends. In her early years she was an active worker in the First Street Reformed Church, of which she was a member. She is survived by three sons and one daughter, Mrs. M. A. Wood and Mrs. John Brodhead of this city, Mrs. G. E. Board of Clarendon, A. R. Ver Nooy of Monticello, two sons and one nephew, and was an aunt of Dr. Ver Nooy of Wood of Brooklyn, who died in Philadelphia.

Newburgh Shipyard.
Rumors are current in Newburgh that the New York Central Railroad plans to establish on land owned by it between the tank shipyard and the Newburgh shipyard a plant for the building of its own tugboats, barges and lighter repairs, etc. It is also said that the new yard will build the new boat for the Hudson River Day Line.

To Repair State Road.
Armstrong & Tinsbridge, liberty contractors, have been awarded a repair contract in the recent lettings of road repair jobs at Albany. The contract amounts to $25,226.10. The work under this contract will be done on the state road at Phoenicia in Ulster county.

Enlarged Clear Factory.
The Van Slyke & Horton clear factory at Catskill is to be enlarged by an addition of 25,000 feet on the north end, two stories high. It is expected that the enlarged factory will employ 150 persons. It now has 75 workers.

Red Arrows Won.
The Red Arrows beat the Copperhead team by a score of 15 to 5. The batterers were W. Thiel and A. Burger, T. Quinn and G. Fisher.

Death of a Family.
Her death makes the seventh member of the family who have passed away since the first of January, 1920. The funeral will be held from the home of her sister, 184 First street, Monday, July 26, at 2:30 p. m.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, July 24.—Preliminary population figures were announced today by the census bureau as follows:

Kingston, N. Y., 1920 population (revised figures) 26,688; increase since 1910, 780 or 3 per cent.

BAD FREIGHT WRECK ON W. S.

Derailed of Cars in East Bound Freight South of Cornwall Blocks Both Tracks Before Paper and Milk Trains Get By.

Because of a freight wreck south of Cornwall on the West Shore railroad shortly after midnight train No. 9 bringing the New York papers and mail from the south had not reached Kingston at noon nor had any other train come from that direction with the exception of a special train which made the round trip from Kingston to the scene of the wreck and brought back No. 9's passengers. It left here at 5:32 this morning and returned at 9:35, continuing to Albany.

Wrecking crews were put to work at both ends of the pile of wreckage which was caused by the derailling of eight or nine cars on an east bound freight but it was thought several hours would elapse before even one track could be cleared to let traffic by, all trains in both directions being halted meanwhile. The conductor of the Walkkill Valley local which arrived here this morning said the wreck was a difficult one to clean up and its having occurred south of Cornwall made it impossible to run trains around on the Walkkill Valley and O and W roads as is done when the track is blocked north of that point.

Trains south are running through Kingston on regular schedule. As far as can be learned no one was injured in the wreck.

BAR HARBOR TRAIN DERAILED

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New London, Conn., July 24.—Two persons were slightly injured when five sleeping cars attached to the Bar Harbor Express on the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad were derailed at Dayville, south of Putnam early today.

The train was bound from Bar Harbor, Me., to New York.

L. H. Renshaw, aged 18, of Norton, Conn., was thrown from an upper berth and sustained bruises.

Flagman Johnson of the Bar Harbor Express, was injured in the back. The accident occurred at 4:55 o'clock. The first news of it received here was a call for a wrecking crew. Dayville is 40 miles north of this city.

The Bar Harbor Express was due to arrive at Grand Central Station in New York city at 8:55, but the wreck delayed it about an hour and twenty minutes.

"Millions now living will never die"-- Judge Rutherford

E. J. COWARD

All interested and desiring to hear and consider definite Scripture proof for this proclamation are cordially invited to attend the free lecture by E. J. Coward, of New York City, at

MECHANICS' HALL 3 O'CLOCK, SUNDAY

Amples International Bible Students Association. Organized by the late Pastor Russell, Judge Rutherford, New York City Bar, President.
No Collection Seats Free

The terrible world war and subsequent epidemics of 1914-1919, the present outburst of the Jews, and the recent granting of a national home land to the Jews, were all clearly marked out in the same prophecies which now distinctly declare that millions now living will never die. This long awaited day is not fifty, seventy-five or more years hence, but is at hand.

We all could easily believe this statement or declaration if the time were announced to begin say two or three hundred years future, but to apply it to ourselves requires positive knowledge based upon indisputable evidence. Thousands of profound Bible scholars can prove from Bible prophecies which have been fulfilled during the past five years that those living until the year 1925 can live forever if they choose to do so. All such will live as human beings on this earth, and will be rejoiced by the return in new human bodies of their departed loved ones and live and enjoy the blessings of the land throughout the ages to come.

FATHER PHELAN HIGHLY HONORED

The Rev. Michael J. Phelan who at one time was rector of the parish at Port Ewen and later at Esopus, has been elevated to domestic prelature by Pope Benedict at the suggestion of the Most Rev. Archbishop Patrick J. Hayes. He will be known as the Right Rev. Mgr. M. J. Phelan. For thirty-six years he has been rector of St. Cecilia's Roman Catholic Church in 106th street, The Bronx. Mgr. Phelan is known throughout the New York archdiocese as a "church builder" because of his record of having built six churches and established three parishes since his ordination to the priesthood fifty years ago. Father Phelan received his education in St. Mary's parish in Grand street, New York City, finishing in Canada and then entering Old St. Joseph's Seminary, Troy. The people of St. Cecilia's parish presented the jubilation with a purse of $3,000. After his ordination he was appointed an assistant at Holy Innocent's Church, Thirty-seventh street, near Broadway, where he remained a few years and then was transferred to St. Peter's Church, Barclay street.

He remained in Barclay street until he was appointed rector of the parish at Port Ewen where he erected his first church edifice. Then he went to Esopus and built the Church of the Sacred Heart, and then built the Church of St. Mary's in Newburgh. Later he was appointed rector of St. Cecilia's.

OLD NORTH FRONT STREET.

Former Resident Recalls Old-Times Who Were Prominent.

Editor Freeman—I have read with interest the articles in your paper from time to time about old-time stores, opera houses, shows and circuses, and being a Kingston boy, having gone away in 1894, the article about North Front street I read over twice. It made me think of the old days when Jake Sampson, Ike Samter, Isidor Pinner, Jake Bernatein, Fred Gallagher, "Dots" Eiting, Eli Eiting and George Kraft were boys around the old street. The writer forgot a few of the old-time men who did business who I remember. There was Louis Sampson who kept a clothing store for years, about fifty, down near Crown street. Then, too, I remember George McKown who took photographs, also George Vallette in the same business. There is a police inspector down in New York named Formosa who sold fruit next to S. Cohen's store, and I remember a man named Kilpatrick who kept a store who used to play the fiddle for the boys. He had a son who became a fine singer and is told he lives up in Delaware county. "Poppy" Jake Elikan sold stockings on the corner of Crown and North Front streets, where A. R. Paynter had a hardware store, and his wife whom the boys called "Mammy Jake." Helped him. Us boys used to go to a saloon called the "Hole in the Wall" down in a basement next to Military Hall, and get a hunk of bologna, the kind you can't get now, for five cents. Have been visiting old Kingston about once every year or two and always look over North Front street. I buy The Freeman on 42nd street every time I am up in that part of the city, which is quite often and am able to keep track of my old home town.

RUSSIAN MEN IN COURLAND

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Berlin, July 24.—Heavy reserve forces of Russian Bolshevik troops are being massed in Courland, at the extreme end of the Russo-Polish battle front, said a dispatch from Mittau today.

The Polish government is taking measures to assure the people. A telegram from Warsaw states that the government has issued a proclamation saying that "Warsaw will not be treated in the immediate future."

Dock laborers are refusing to unload trains bearing munitions for the Poles at Dantzig.

A German official declared that his country is determined to remain neutral. France has requested that German munitions, which were to go to the French under the terms of the armistice, be delivered to the Poles. This request has been refused.

Russian cavalry patrols that were reported to have been sighted on the border of East Prussia at several points made no effort to advance farther according to information from the Poles.

The intensity of the fighting on the Russo-Polish front was shown by the fact that heavy artillery firing could be heard in a number of German towns near the eastern frontier.

New Encyclopedia Britannica.

Hugh Chisholm, who has been editor of the Encyclopedia Britannica since 1904, is at work upon the preparation of new volumes to be added to the present 11th edition and has a large staff at work, both in London and New York. The editor estimates that almost 70% of the new matter will be devoted to questions connected with the war, although every subject needing fresh treatment will be brought up to date, there are not many miscellaneous developments which call for extended additional space, apart from such special activities as aviation, automobiles, moving pictures and a few other among the industrial, economic and social advances reflected in the opportune census of the United States for 1920. The supplement will consist of three volumes, each of the same size, and containing about the same amount of matter, as the volumes now in use; and these three, in combination with the existing 29 of the 11th edition will constitute the 12th edition, completely providing for the needs of the English speaking world during a great many years to come.

First Use of Water Colors.

Water colors were practically unknown in Europe until the eighteenth century, and they were used only as a vehicle in art. Fresco paintings were a natural outgrowth of their use. Water colors were employed by the artist in decorating many famous buildings. They took the place of oil colors.

is a task that most women dread. They frankly admit they "don't know a thing" about the technicalities of insulation, ice conservation and the other details that make all the difference in the world between efficient and inefficient refrigerating service.

That's why they like to come here—because they know we understand the subject and keep only the thoroughly dependable makes—refrigerators that meet more than half way the needs of the housewife who is "doing her bit" in the kitchen.

Come in and see our new 1918 models, including porcelain-lined icers—built to SAVE AND SERVE. It'll do your eyes and heart good.

Ontario Poultryman Says Typical Meat Bird is Bred Differently From Those Bred to Lay.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Ithaca, N. Y., July 21.—According to W. R. Graham, of the Ontario Agricultural College, Canada, who has been here taking part in the poultry judging and breeding school at the state college of agriculture, the only thing which in laying and meat chickens have in common is vigor, or the "main" which makes them go. The meat chicken is the prettier to the layman, except in the head, which is short, thick and broad, with round eye-sockets. The head of the laying hen is clean-cut and slender, with oval eye-sockets.

Meat vs. Laying.

Chickens grown primarily for meat are built differently from those raised to lay eggs; they are more rounded in body structure, with a round keel-bone and rounded sides, and large conspicuous legs when dressed. The hen bred for laying, on the other hand, is more angular, larger around the body in the rear than in front, and is often "slab" or flat-sided.

Feeding, Not Soiling.

According to Professor Graham, the difference between the high-producing egg-layer and the meat bird often cannot be detected in the hen, but must be felt.

"Culling must be kept for egg production," said Professor Graham, "throws out the meat birds. The latter at the hand comfortably, the typical egg-layer never does it—she is too angular. A hen must be in good flesh to be efficient. Fat should be sought on the pelvic bone; if there is fat there, the hen is fat; if there isn't, she isn't fat."

HOMESPOUN TAKES.

Creeping doors and squeaking bureau drawers become mute if rubbed with hard soap.

Simplicity is the watchword of good dressing for men, women and children—and houses, too.

A few yards of mosquito netting spread over the baby's bed may mean the difference between comfort and discomfort, health and illness.

Rabbers save doctor's bills and rheumatism's pain. But they are for wet weather only; your feet can't breathe properly through rubber.

A picnic supper need require no more preparation than any other meal if you have a "picnic shelf" in the pantry, where all the necessary emergency foods and equipment can be kept.

Everyone likes roses; that's probably why the State College at Ithaca, N. Y., has had to get a new edition of "The Culture of Garden Roses." Get your copy. It is P 121.

A well planned meal is better and costs less than one just thrown together. It may not always be possible, because of unexpected guests or need to use left overs, to carry out your plans, but it is less trouble to readjust a good menu than to make a new one.

RESOLUTE NOW. bixt(h)stian Resolute's victory yesterday was down cut and run under conditions different from those of the previous summer. Starting in a blanket of fog the Resolute pointed high over the first leg while Shamrock fell far off toward the Jersey shore and in consequence had to make two tacks to round the first turn two minutes behind Resolute which made it in one and had nearly a quarter mile advantage. The challenger gained in the second leg but was still far behind when they entered the home stretch. At this point signs of a terrific squall became apparent and caused Skipper Burton to shorten sail while Resolute took a chance and kept her top rig up throughout the blow and dash of rain which quickly subsided, this increasing her lead. The brief calm followed the blow and Shamrock picked up first the wind that followed. She crawled up slowly but still about ahead of Resolute, but when the defender caught the breeze she quickly forged ahead and crossed the finish line first.

Start	Finish
Shamrock 1:01:22	4:29:25
Resolute 1:01:26	4:43:05

Elapsed Corrected Time

Start	Finish
Shamrock 3:27:25	3:31:12
Resolute 3:41:10	3:41:10

Resolute wins by 3 minutes 18 seconds elapsed time; 9 minutes 55 seconds corrected time.

WERRY BASKETS.

Mr. Paul Newman, City Supt. is told.

It has come to the attention of the city department of Public Works and that some farmers and berry growers are using berry baskets which have been used before and in some cases these baskets are of the old type, which are now prohibited by law.

Commissioner Eugene H. Porter has instructed the bureau of inspection and all city and county health officers to stop this practice and issue necessary permits. There is no objection to using a basket more than once provided it is full cleaned and the local health officer permits of its use in this manner. A quart basket should have a capacity of 71.2 cubic inches.

Order in Fruit Box.

The membership in the Fruit Growers Association has increased from 672 in July, 1919, to 795 in July, 1920. This increase places the association among the first ten in the state in percentage of membership.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, D. C., July 24.—"What do you find to be the greatest advantage of owning a motor truck?" Of 753 farm owners of motor trucks who were asked this question by the United States department of agriculture, 91 per cent said "saving time."

About 25 per cent of these men had found better markets since buying their trucks but fifty per cent of them had not cut down the number of their work trucks by as much as a single head, while less than one man in ten had cut down his work stock more than two head.

"Which merely goes to show," says a department specialist in farm power, "how difficult it is to arrive at a definite conclusion. In a matter like this motor truck study we have just completed, it would certainly appear that any saving attributable to the motor truck on the farm is in time saved rather than in expense. Most of these men think that the profits accruing from the saving in time more than over balances any extra expense entailed by the use of the motor truck. It is significant that the majority of these farmers are located a considerable distance from market, more than four-fifths of them being five miles or more from their shipping points, and the saving in time effected by their use of trucks is naturally greater than it would be on the average farm, which lies nearer to market than most of the farms concerned in this investigation. The experience of the 753 farmers who have contributed to this study should enable the farmer himself to judge with a fair degree of accuracy as to whether the motor truck would prove advantageous under his conditions."

Investigation in Eastern States.

The investigation in question was made during the past winter and spring. Farmers in the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware and Indiana, who have motor trucks for use on their own farms, were asked to report to the department the types and sizes of their trucks, the use they make of their trucks, the cost of operating them, the advantages and disadvantages of trucks for farm use, and other related information.

A study of the reports of 753 of these farmers has just been completed by the office of farm management and farm economics. The farms which these men operate are of all sizes and types, and the motor trucks are of all sizes, from one-half to five tons. The rated capacity of very few of the trucks is greater than two tons, however, and nearly half of them are of the one-ton size.

Among the important facts revealed by the investigation may be mentioned the following:

Only 18 per cent of these farms are less than five miles from market and nearly one-fourth of them are 20 miles or more from market.

Ninety-five per cent of the farmers believe that their trucks will turn out to be profitable investments.

One-ton trucks are preferred by more men than any other size. About half of the owners of one-half and three-fourths ton trucks prefer sizes larger than they now own.

In the opinions of these men the principal disadvantage of a motor truck is "poor roads."

Trucks Efficient Time Savers.

As compared with horses and wagons, the trucks save from one-half to two-thirds of the time required for hauling materials to and from these farms.

These farmers have returned loads for their trucks about one-fourth of the time.

On the majority of the farms all the hauling other than road hauling is done with horses and wagons.

About one-fourth of the men do some custom hauling with their trucks. The average amount received per year by those who do such work is $174.

On the average there are about eight weeks during the year when the roads are in such condition that these trucks can not be used. The roads on which three-fourths of them usually travel are all or part dirt.

About one-fourth of the farmers have changed their markets for at least a part of their produce since purchasing trucks. For those who have changed markets, the average distance to the new market is seven miles, and the average distance to the new market is twenty miles.

Average Life Nearly Seven Years.

The owners estimate that, on the average, their trucks travel 3,320 miles per year and are used on 172 days per year.

The average life of the trucks is between 4 and 7 years, and in most cases, depreciation is the largest single item of expense in connection with their operation.

Most of the owners of one-half and three-fourths ton trucks prefer pneumatic tires, the owners of 1-ton trucks are about evenly divided in their preference, and most of the owners of trucks larger than one ton prefer solid tires.

Over two-thirds of the trucks had not been out of commission when needed for a single day during the year covered by the report, and nearly the same proportion of the owners stated that they had not had any considerable time on account of motor or tire trouble, breakdown, etc., when using their trucks. However, about one-third in thirty had been out of commission ten days or more.

The average cost of operation of the 1-ton trucks was about 8 cents per mile; of the 1 1/2-ton trucks about 11 cents; of the 2-ton trucks about 13 cents; and of the 3-ton about 20 cents.

The average cost of hauling crops, including the value of the driver's time at 50 cents per hour, was about 50 cents per ton-mile with the 1-ton, 54 cents with the 1 1/2-ton, 56 cents with the 2-ton, and 64 cents with the 3-ton.

Boys Sometimes Misjudged.

Thousands of boys develop slowly. Their brains are strong and capable, but they work slowly, and as a consequence the boys are misjudged and misunderstood by parents and teachers alike. A child should never hear the slightest hint to the effect that it is in any way inferior. Its whole training should tend to develop faith, confidence in himself, in his powers, in his great possibilities. As the twig is bent the tree is inclined. The child who is impressed in its tender, formative stage with the idea of its inferiority suffers a wrong for which nothing can compensate.—Orison Swett Marden in Chicago Daily News.

Wonderful Natural Bridge.

The natural bridge is one of the chief natural curiosities of the United States. It is situated in Rockbridge county, Virginia, 115 miles west of Richmond. The bridge spans a deep chasm, through which a small stream flows. It is composed of a hard siliceous limestone in horizontal strata and is the remnant of the roof of a great cave which formerly covered the gorge. This remnant now remains in the form of an arch 215 feet high. The span of the arch is from forty-five to sixty feet and the thickness of its crown is about forty feet, while its average width is sixty feet. A public road passes across it.

Traveling With the Turkeys.

Processions of all kinds are to be found in the streets of Istanbul and with no traffic regulations it is difficult to make much headway. In "The Daily Pageant of Istanbul" in Travel Miss Lucy Garnett finds herself in mixed society. "In company with a large drove of turkeys, we take our way along the broad straight street, thronged on either hand with shops. Presently the turkeys get into difficulties with a file of hams bearing on their Atlaslike shoulders piles of bedding and curiously decorated chests and coffers. • • • Those hams and chests constitute the wedding trousseau and 'pleasuring' of a Turkish bride." The turkeys are soon repatriated to be dispersed many miles before they are finally landed rarely near the great mosque where they are to be sold in celebration of a Moslem festival.

"Occupants" of the Moon.

There are any number of versions of moon occupants. And every so often a moon "hoax" is sprung on the people, the sentiment in the average makeup delighting in foolish mysteries about the fair planet. Another reason for the moon being in the moon is that he stole wood on Sunday. He was allowed to choose between the sun and the moon as his future abode. Choosing the moon he was provided a fagot set on fire to keep him from freezing to death. Another tale is that a poor woman knocked at the door of a rich man and begged for food for her child. He refused, whereat she wished that he would be consigned to the coldest place in existence. He was banished to the moon.

Lapp Depends on Reindeer.

The most prosperous of the Lapps are the herdsmen of reindeer, for this animal not only provides swift and sure locomotion with which to cover the great distances between the very small villages, but also provides meat for food and furry hides from which the Lapp makes all his clothes. These skins are worn with the fur inside, both winter and summer, only a few having learned to wear the lighter clothes of their North European neighbors during the summer. Although located in the arctic, Lapland often has a very warm summer climate, for the snow melt in the spring, and the sun, during the summer, shines day and night.
